All is good, thanks. Good timing on the move, it should be getting colder up here soon. Sorry, can't discuss the NRRB proceedings since it's all deliberative and pre-decisional blah, blah, blah. But the comments will be posted when they are final.

Hope all is well back north...we made the move down here to SC on Wednesday....I'll be "commuting" for a while. I still have a condo to use in NJ.

A bunch of the CPG members are anxious to find out any information about the NRRB meeting last week....is there anything you can share? If not, no worries.

I'll get the presentation materials up to you on Monday...pretty similar to the CAG presentation, with a bit more detail on the reduction calculations. Should not be any surprises. We can give you a detailed presentation on this topic whenever it's convenient for you...

Talk to you on Monday.

Mike
